FOR LATER PLANTING: U. S. 35 (known as 100-day type.)

See price above. Quality is excellent.

Safer than "90-day" open-pollinated. Ripens uniformly. Deeper-rooted, withstands drought and adverse conditions better. Farmers who used it for late planting in past years report outyielded open-pollinated 5 to 20 bu. per acre. Costs only about 50c acre more than open-pollinated. Extra yield alone more than offsets price differential.
